

Lead-In-Lines

DESCRIPTION

Lead-In-Lines are Shock Tube detonators used as signal transmission devices to initiate explosive events. Most designs are configured with an initiating device, a continuous length of Shock Tube connected to a detonator of known strength and a bunch block accessory. Lead-In-Lines may be supplied in either single or dual tube configuration.

For a full product sheet, please contact EBA&D.